Hi Dale, we recommend that you secure your Wi-Fi connection by changing your password to prevent something like that from happening.

Now, select career colleges, like Westwood College, are pitching in by paying for their students exams to help attain a certification in their chosen field.